

Aastha Trust and IHF Education Program

About Aastha Trust

Aastha is a non-profitable organization, with a mission to elevate the living conditions of the vulnerable people in our society. Aastha Trust aims to assist seniors who are abandoned by their loved ones and help slum children, orphans, and children with rare disabilities. They take proper steps to provide them skill-development and training, which in turn provides them a respectable way of living. Aastha Trust gives special attention to girls and women, as well as education for both boys and girls. We believe that empowering people to earn their own means of living provides them an opportunity to evolve as a better citizen. It increases their awareness on a range of issues - from healthcare and appropriate social behavior to understanding one's rights.

It's Humanity Foundation (IHF) Education Program:

IHF Education Program is the embodiment of the main goal of It's Humanity Foundation (IHF) and is the spearhead of all of IHF's Operations as it paves the way to a brighter Bangladesh by providing access to quality education for disadvantaged children of Bangladesh. From March 2020 during COVID-19 students, their parents, and educators around the world are feeling the extraordinary ripple effect of the novel coronavirus as schools are shutting down and quarantine methods are being ordered to cope with the global pandemic. To cope with the gap of continuing the education to students, IHF started a project titled 'Home School' which has been launched on June 23rd, 2020 at all IHF school campuses along with our special school project ALOK.
